Esteemed Priest, Fr. Fleming Leaves Coleman

Rev. Denis Fleming, priest of the Holy Ghost Catholic Church for the past nine years, was honored at a farewell party in the Elks hall Saturday evening, November 14th, when over 250 parishioners and friends gathered for the occasion.

Introduced by Chairman Frank Aboussay, John Binda, president of the Holy Name Society, gave a short talk expressing the entire Crows Nest Pass regrets on hearing the news that Father Fleming was leaving the Pass. He also outlined the active interest Father Fleming had displayed in community affairs here.

Rev. S. Henke of St. Cyril's in Bellevue, who came to the Pass at the same time as Father Fleming, gave an interesting talk, outlining Father Fleming's life. He stated that he and Rev. Fleming had attended St. Joseph's Seminary in Edmonton together and each had attended one another's ordination held only a few days apart. He commended Father Fleming for the fine work he had done and wished him success in his new Parish.

Mrs. Lorraine Aiello, president of the Catholic Women's League, called on Father Fleming's mother, Mrs. C. Fleming and on behalf of the League presented her with a bouquet of roses.

Father Fleming was then called upon by Frank Aboussay, who, on behalf of all present and the parish, presented him with a purse of money, and in doing so expressed the entire parish's regrets at Father Fleming's transfer to Calgary. Expressing his regrets at leaving the Crows Nest Pass, Rev. Fleming thanked the parishioners for the gift and their faithfulness during the years.

Entertainment was then provided by Harry Sella and his sons, from Blairmore, who played several orchestra numbers.

A vote of thanks was extended to the Ladies of St. Paul's United Church who served the supper, prepared by the C.W.L., so that the Catholic Ladies could enjoy the affair. An evening dancing concluded the occasion.

Father Fleming, 33, was born in Sidney Mines, Nova Scotia, on October 10, 1925. The family came to Blairmore in 1926, where Father Fleming attended both public and high school. He attended St. Anthony's College for one year and prior to this in 1944, joined the Navy in Calgary, and served as an ordinary seaman on a number of land bases, including Gaspe and Halifax in 1946 he entered St. Joseph's Seminary in Edmonton, and during the summer months he worked in the coal mine at Blairmore at such occupations as bucking coal and packing timber.

After attending St. Joseph's for six years, he was ordained in 1952 at his home town Church, St. Anne's Catholic Church in Blairmore.

Bishop Johnson of Nelson, and presently Archbishop of Vancouver was in charge of the ordination and the sermon at the First Mass was preached by Bishop M. A. Harrington of Kamloops, B. C., and formerly of Blairmore.

Father A. Anderson now of Calgary, and formerly of Blairmore, was the assistant priest at the Mass and Father Henke of Bellevue assisted as master of ceremonies at the ordination. Four days later Father Henke was ordained at Rockyford where Father Fleming acted as assistant to the Archbishop.

Rev. Fleming's first posting was at St. Mary's Cathedral in Calgary, as assistant and while there was Chaplain at the Holy Cross Hospital in Calgary. After three years in the city, Rev. Fleming came to Coleman in September of 1955.

Besides his parish duties, Father Fleming has taken a very active part in community affairs being president of the Coleman Athletic Association for several years and also taking a prominent part in coaching midget, bantam and juvenile hockey.

Last year he coached the Coleman Grands hockey team and also played on the Coleman Old-Timers' line-up.

When baseball functioned in the Pass he also took part in this sport. Father Fleming also conducted the 35 voice Crows Nest Pass Mixed Choir which entertained members from all of the Pass towns. He was also Chaplain of the Coleman Holy Name Society and of the Catholic Women's League.

He will leave here on November 15th to take over his new duties on November 22nd.

Mrs. Fleming, his mother, will also move to Calgary.

Father Fleming will take over and organize St. Luke's Parish in the Brentwood district in Calgary. His first duties will include building a church in this district of northwest Calgary.

Father Fleming will be replaced here by Rev. Walter Krewski of Tilley, Alberta. Father Krewski was parish priest at Cowley about 10 years ago.

You as a free citizen have the right and, perhaps you will agree, the obligation to read the news — to know what is going on.

Coleman Council Meet Engineers

Representatives of the Old Man River Planning Commission were present at the Coleman council meeting last week and discussed general development plans for the town.

Several new sites of land acquired by Coleman, were discussed with a view to providing roads and streets to the areas.

It was disclosed that there were still a few choice lots available in town.

A representative of the Department of Highways was also in attendance at the meeting, and advised that tentative plans were being looked into for a two-lane highway with passing lanes through the Pass area. Entrances from the town onto the highway were being investigated as well as other factors pertaining to safety.

Underwood, McLelland and Associates, the town's engineering firm, have been studying conditions and taking levels in West Coleman with a view to solving the water problems in this area.

The engineers disclosed that four possible sites for building the sewage disposal unit were being looked into at the present time.

Coleman will be installing sewage lines to service the town this spring. The system will cost in the near vicinity of a quarter of a million dollars.

The set was hit for the Legionnaires by Albert Getman and Fred Churla with three each, Gerry Gentile and Frank Raymond with one each.

A total of 17 penalties was dished out with The Hat getting 14 and Coleman three. The number of shots on goal were—Legionnaires 41, The Hat 35.

Both teams played excellent, clean and fairly fast games.

The attendance at the first game was good but a smaller turnout appeared at the second game.

The Coleman-Fernie fans are urged to turn out and support their hockey club.

The next home games will be on Sat., Nov. 21, when the Legionnaires will meet the Taber Chefs in the Coleman Arena at 8.30 p.m. and on Sun., Nov. 22, when they will play in the Fernie Arena at 2 p.m.

Remembrance Day Services Well Attended

Remembrance Day Services throughout the Crows Nest Pass towns were well attended on Wednesday.

Memories of both sad and happy events were recalled by veterans, mothers, fathers and relatives of men who gave their lives in both World Wars I and II, when the sound of marching feet and band music was heard in observance of Remembrance Day.

The Coleman branch of the Canadian Legion was in charge of the annual observance.

The Legion Color Party, comprising S. Tarabula, J. Mosciencia and B. Crippen, headed a parade which formed south of the Central school. Parade Marshal Norman Hammer called Veterans, RCME personnel, Army Cadets, the Boy Scouts, Cubs and Brownies on parade at 3:30 p.m. and proceeded west on Second street to the strains of the RCME band.

Swinging south at MacDonald's corner, east on Main street the parade marched to the Cenotaph, where special services were held.

Mayor J. Holyk as master of ceremonies, called on Bandmaster F. Edl for the playing of "O Canada".

Rev. D. Powell, chaplain of the Coleman Legion, opened the service with a prayer in commemoration of all those lost from Coleman in both wars.

Roll Call of members of the armed forces who gave their lives in World War One was read by N. Cytko. Following this E. Amell then read names of those lost in World War Two.

Mayor J. Holyk paid tribute to those who sacrificed their lives so that the world could enjoy the freedom they now have. He consoled the fathers, mothers, wives, children, and all those who had given a loved one to their country so that we might live our lives free from such horrors of war. He added that he hoped that no other names would ever be added to those who had already given the greatest sacrifice of all—their lives.

Mayor Holyk thanked the Legion, the Service Clubs, the townspeople and all who had remembered the solemn hour.

Poppo wreaths were then laid on the Cenotaph by relatives and various service clubs to add to the solemn occasion.

The Firing Party of the RCME fired a volley of shots. Following this Bugler F. Edl sounded the "Last Post".

Heads were bowed in memory of all for two minutes. "Reveille" followed by Bugler F. Edl.

Benediction was said by Rev. D. Powell.

The solemn occasion came to an end with the National Anthem.

Following the Cenotaph service the parade re-formed and marched back to the school where it was dismissed by Parade Marshal Hammer.

A social evening was held in the Legion club room after the parade. The Cubs, Brownies, Scouts and Cadets were also served lunch in the Legion basement.

Former Pass Resident Honored

(Taken from The White Cane Magazine, Calgary, Alberta, April, 1964)

A presentation was made to William Glenndeming as a token of appreciation for his many years of service to the Alberta Division.

He had, for many years, been the Division Chairman for Publicity which entailed the responsibility for White Cane Week publicity.

He has been both president and vice-president of the Calgary Club of the Blind, in fact Bill is vice-president at this time. It is only because of ill health that he has decided to give up his work with the Council. He has been nominated for citation in the Council's Book of Fame.

Bill was a former resident of the Pass, and will still be remembered by many here, before losing his sight.

pastor of Holy Ghost Church in Coleman, who is being transferred shortly to St. Pius 16th Parish, Calgary.

The annual Memorial Service of the Council was held November 15 after Benediction in the Coleman parish hall. Bro. Otto Comin of Coleman, who lost his life in a tragic swimming accident last summer, was particularly remembered at this service.

OF MANY THINGS (By Ambrose Hills)

Automation Is a Must

It is said that within the next thirty-odd years the present population of the world will be doubled. We will need twice the food and then some to feed them. The same goes for clothing and shelter.

Surely these important requirements will not be met unless man uses all the skill at his command?

To my mind there is something indecent about efforts to stop such progress. We must have automation in order to survive.

True, there are problems of distribution, but they are picayune compared with production problems. Instead of so much concern over who gets the biggest share from a small bowl of stew, our main effort should be to fill the bowl to overflowing.

Instead, many organized groups seem to be more interested in promoting scarcity in order to keep prices high. Some unions have make-work rules, and there is a great deal of feather-bedding. Some fight against automation every step of the way.

If Canadians fail to adopt automation, then we will have unemployment with a vengeance! Our products will cost so much more than those made by new methods.

We must not forget that we compete with the world as well as sell to it. And we have a moral obligation to try to meet the needs of others at prices they can afford.

Report From Parliament Hill

(By Lawrence E. Kindt, M.P.)

Recently there has been an intense debate in the House of Commons concerning the CBC. For years there have been many and varied complaints regarding the administration and programs of the CBC, and now these complaints are receiving a thorough airing in Parliament.

For a number of reasons the operations of the CBC have not been discussed at any length in Parliament for several years, and during recent months the Secretary of State (who answers on behalf of the CBC in Parliament) has refused to answer questions concerning that organization, on the ground that it is not a Government Department.

In theory this is quite correct, but in fact it is ridiculous. The Canadian taxpayers provide about $100 million a year to maintain the CBC and it seems incredible that MP's cannot make inquiries concerning the operation of the Corporation.

Like the Civil Service Commission, the CBC was set up so that it would be completely independent of "political interference" — and with this anyone would agree, as no one wants a Government-controlled propaganda agency such as one sees in the Soviet Union.

On the other hand, the CBC has become so "independent" that it seems to feel that it is a complete law unto itself and is not subject to control by anyone.

Recently, it has become the custom that when any MP (regardless of Party) raises any matter concerning the CBC there are shouts of "political interference".

Most MP's are now getting fed up with this nonsense and Canada's Number One Gold-plated Sacred Cow is now receiving a thorough examination.

There is undoubtedly waste, extravagance and sloppy administration on a large scale in the Corporation.

Application for a grant must be made on these official application forms, and must be submitted no later than the 31st day of March, 1965. They should be addressed to the Department of the Provincial Secretary.

In the case of a town or village, application will be made by the town or village council; in the case of a hamlet or community organization in a county or municipal district, by the county concerned; in the case of a hamlet or community organization in an improvement district or special area, by the Department of Municipal Affairs.

Under the terms of the extension to the program, a town, village or hamlet whose population in 1964 totals 100 or more persons, and which has not previously received a Recreational Grant or any part of it, is eligible for a grant of $10 per capita of population.

A town, village or hamlet whose population in 1964 totals at least 50 persons, but less than 100 persons, and which has not previously received a Recreational Grant or any part of it, can qualify for a grant of $800. In addition, a town, village or hamlet with a population of at least 50 persons, but less than 100 persons, and having an active community organization in the area, may apply for a Recreational Grant on behalf of the community organization.

Recreational Grants may be approved for any feasible plan for recreational facilities, and projects planned jointly by adjoining qualifying communities will be given consideration.

Winter Driving Is Different

With the time of snow and ice almost here, the Canadian Highway Safety Council has some ideas that could save a lot of people a lot of pain and cost — if they heed them.

CHSC's tips are issued in connection with its nationwide campaign, Safe Driving Week, December 1 to 7.

In snow, clear the entire windshield, side and back windows. Vision is vital in winter driving. Never smear lemon, glycerin or beeswax on the glass; they only make a mess. Replace dead wiper blades with live ones. Fill windshield washer tanks with the recommended solution, not plain water. Drive with headlights, never parking lights, in reduced visibility.

Parking lights distort distance to the oncoming motorist, if he sees them at all.

Use snow tires or chains where traction is poor. Letting some air out of today's low pressure tires is no help and increases wear. Carry some sand or chicken wire to help the car off glare ice. Heavy loads of sand or stone in the trunk makes steering tricky and makes big skids out of little ones. In snow or ice, start gently, give tires a chance to bite. Spinning melts the snow or ice, makes things slicker and digs the wheels deeper.

Even with chains or snow tires it takes a lot longer to stop a car on ice. Avoid a sliding crash by increasing the following distance in winter. Don't worry about the nut who races ahead and takes up that space. Let him have it, and stay well back of such a poor driver.

Abrupt turns, lane changing and sudden changes in speed can produce bad skids. Anticipate all turns, make them slowly and gently. A driver who finds himself in a skid should turn the steering wheel in the direction the rear-end is sliding, then straighten the front wheels as the car straightens. On a hill, get enough momentum to reach the top, then watch for stalled cars or obstacles on the way down. Be extra careful in temperature traps in shady areas and on bridges. Posted speed limits are for ideal conditions. Good judgment is the real speed limit.

Pump the brakes to slow or stop. Slamming them on produces loss of control. Ice or snow can be as slippery at 30 above as at zero. Heavy traffic at corners packs snow, — spinning wheels polish ice and stopping becomes treacherous. Start to slow down ahead of the intersection.

Inattention to or neglect of common sense driving habits in winter produce serious accidents. CHSC urges "Don't leave it to the other driver to drive right . . . YOU are the other driver to everybody else!"

A Disappearing Bit Of The Old West

Calgary's Exhibition and Stampede has been preceded since 1912 by an overland trek from the Stampede Ranch to Calgary of the bucking broncos that make up so much of the color and excitement of the biggest outdoor show on earth!

Chetwynd Films Ltd. has succeeded in capturing the last such trek in a half hour film which features Jim Armstrong of Youngstown, Alta., and Fletcher Markle.

"Bronco" was first seen over the CBC television network on "Telescope" Friday, November 13th.

This was an exciting preview of the forthcoming color and sound film on the Calgary Stampede bucking horses produced by Chetwynd Films for Molson's Western Breweries Limited.

The film enables the viewer to meet many of the ruggedest cowboys and sense the anticipation and excitement when they try to best these wild horses.

Service clubs and other organizations will be able to obtain the color version of the film for group showings through Molson's Western Breweries offices.

Mr. J. T. Black, vice-president and general manager of Molson's Western said the company is pleased to help make the film available. "This is part of the Old West that will gradually fade from memory. After 52 years, this is the last trek of the bucking horses to be made overland and we wanted to record it on film," said Mr. Black.

Questions, Answers Re Employment

Q—I am at present collecting unemployment insurance benefit at a single rate. My wife's cousin is out of work and he is coming to live with us and receive free room and board. Can I claim him as a dependent?

A—You would not be entitled to the dependency rate of benefit in respect of your wife's cousin. While the Unemployment Insurance Act and Regulations provide that certain persons connected with you through marriage, such as the parents, grandparents, brothers and sisters of your wife, may be claimed as dependents, it does not include cousins of your spouse.

Q—My husband was collecting unemployment insurance benefit under sickness benefit and was paid up to last Saturday. He died suddenly six days later, that was yesterday, on Friday. What should I do about the benefit due him for the first four days of the week?

A—Notify your local office immediately and provide them with full particulars. Under certain circumstances benefit due to a deceased person up to the date of death may be paid to the person who proves that he is equitably entitled to it.

Q—I have a small business that brings in about $25 a week. My husband is working, but he says that if he loses his job he will not be able to claim benefit because I have the income from my business. I think he is mistaken, as the income from my business is too small, seeing that we have three children and have to pay rent. Which of us is right?

A—The fact that you have a small business would not affect your husband's entitlement to unemployment insurance benefit provided he was not participating in the operation of your business. He would have to supply full particulars to the Commission's local office when filing his claim so that it could be decided whether or not he could be considered unemployed.

Q—I worked as a waitress for almost ten years and when I was laid off about a month ago, began drawing benefit. I would sooner work as a typist as I have had some experience in that line. Could I take a refresher course in typing or a course as a stenographer, and still collect my benefit until I have landed a job?

A—You should consult your local office and give them full particulars regarding the course. Your benefit rights will not be affected if you are directed to attend a course of instruction or training by the Commission. Your local office will give you full details.

Rudeness is a weak man's imitation of strength.

CALGARY POWER LTD. proudly presents Albertine Clearhout of Bashaw AN ALBERTA JUNIOR CITIZEN OF THE YEAR

At sixteen years of age, Albertine has proved herself a worthy Junior Citizen by her unselfish care and devotion to her family. Her mother, after a long illness, passed away last December.

For over two years Albertine has cheerfully helped her father with housekeeping, meals, looking after two young brothers every day — always with competence and good humor.

This has not prevented Albertine from passing her Grade 9 examinations with an A standing. Her ambition is to become a social worker — and she'll make an excellent one!

We congratulate Albertine, and thank Alberta's Weekly Newspaper Editors for their active co-operation in the Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year program, sponsored by Alberta's investor-owned electric utility companies.

CALGARY POWER LTD.

proudly presents

Hugh McLeod

of Edmonton

AN ALBERTA JUNIOR CITIZEN OF THE YEAR

Eleven-year old Hugh won his award for his scholastic achievement under an extreme physical handicap. Hugh was born with glaucoma, which resulted in the loss of one eye and blindness in the other. Following surgery, he spent nine months at Jericho Hill School for the Blind in Vancouver.

After regaining a minimum of sight in one eye, he was admitted to Jasper Place public school — determined to keep up with his class.

He has done this, not only by studying hard at school, but also by giving up all after-school activity or play, to listen and learn his lessons of the day from his family.

In spite of this tremendous handicap, Hugh was among the top students in his Grade Five class.

We congratulate Hugh, and thank Alberta's Weekly Newspaper Editors for their active co-operation in the Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year program sponsored by Alberta's Investor-owned electric utility companies.

CALGARY POWER LTD.
PROUD OF OUR ALBERTA HERITAGE

This is one of a series of Junior Citizen Award announcements. We also congratulate Hugh's father, D. McLeod, Editor of the Suburban Times, and thank his nominator, Art Keller of Edmonton.
